

Beekeeping Program (Advanced Session)

Friday, March 11, 2005

9:00 am - 4:30 pm

Lincoln Room

Kellogg Center, Michigan State University

Agenda: Friday

8:30 am Registration and getting acquainted

9:20 am Video: Comb Honey Production

10:10 am Door Prizes

● 10:30 am "Exocrine glands and pheromones of honey bees"
Dr. Zachary Huang, Michigan State University

● 11:20 am "Comb honey production"
Dr. Roger Hoopingarner, Michigan State University

12:10 - 1:30 pm Lunch on your own

● 1:30 pm "Pesticide update and other bee issues"
Mr. Michael Hansen, State Apiarist, Michigan Department of Agriculture

● 2:20 pm "Effect of Spring feeding on worker longevity"
Dr. Gard Otis, University of Guelph

3:10 pm Break

3:20 pm Door Prizes

● 3:40 pm "Michigan Beekeepers Association: the past and the future"
Mr. Richard Leonard, President of Michigan Beekeepers Association

● 4:10 pm Questions and Answers on any topic (All speakers)

● 4:30 pm Meeting Adjourned

Beekeeping Program (Advanced Session)

Saturday, March 12, 2005

9:00 am - 4:30 pm

Lincoln Room

Kellogg Center, Michigan State University

Agenda: Saturday

8:30 am Registration and getting acquainted

9:00 am Video: Tales from the Hive

10:10 am Door Prizes

● 10:30 am "Tracking Nosema spores in honey and wax: a two year study"

Dr. Zachary Huang, Michigan State University

● 11:20 am "Why do honey bee queens mate so many times?"

Dr. Gard Otis, University of Guelph

12:10 - 1:30 pm Lunch on your own

● 1:30 pm "Repairing a 60 year vacuum"

Dr. George Ayers, Michigan State University

2:20 pm Break

2:30 pm Hive Raffle

● 2:40 pm "Swarming Biology: How to interpret what is happening in your bee hives."

Dr. Gard Otis, University of Guelph

● 3:10 pm "Honey bee researches in bee labs around the country"

Zachary Huang, Michigan State University

● 3:50 pm Questions and Answers on any topic (All speakers)

● 4:30 pm Meeting adjourned

See you next year! ANR 2006: March 10 and 11.